Move To Repair The Church—Death of Francis Gillilan, A Promising Young Man.

At the postponed meeting of the church last Wednesday evening it was voted to appoint a committee of three to canvass the village to see how much money can be raised towards making repairs on, or additions to, the church, provided the Somers fund is used, and to see if a grant or loan can be secured from The Church Building society. The committee consists of the following: L. E. Gillilan, Chester Somers and Mrs. Annie Gillilan.

The community was shocked and saddened when the news reached here Thursday night that Francis Gillilan had died in a private hospital in Boston. He came home from Northfield five weeks ago Saturday, with abscesses in his ear. He had five breaks in one week. He went to St. Johnsbury and was doctored for nearly two weeks then the doctor thought an operation was necessary. He was taken to Boston, Thursday, Feb. 19, and was operated on for mastoid abscess. In a few days blood poison and spinal meningitis developed and he died Thursday, Feb. 26. William Francis Gillilan, the youngest son of William and Ruth Gillilan was born in Barnet, May 13, 1893. He attended Peacham Academy and was president of his class. He graduated from there in 1910. He taught school from that time until 1912, when he went to Norwich University, where he was in his second year. In the passing of this young man a bright, and promising christian life is ended. He was a manly young fellow and a favorite wherever he went. He leaves to mourn his loss his mother and three brothers, Fred and Henry, of this place and Hiram of Franklin, N. H., besides a host of friends. The funeral was held Monday at 2 o'clock from the home. The profusion of beautiful flowers and the number present testify to the esteem in which he was held. A large delegation of cadets from Norwich came to attend his funeral.

Albert Farnsworth lost one of his work horses last week. It dropped dead working. Miss Belle Parker closed a very successful term of school Friday, Feb. 27. Marjorie Albee had neither absent or tardy marks during the term. Marjorie Clark, Roland Robinson and Catherine Robie had no absent marks. Beatrice Parker and Nellie McConach, had perfect spelling lessons for the term. Benjamin Barrett of Cabot and Miss Mabel Goodale of this place were united in marriage of Rev. W. C. Clark at the home of the bride, Wednesday, Feb. 25. Only the parents of the bride and groom were present. The young couple have gone to Littleton, Mass., to work on a fruit farm.

VERMONT NEWS

E. M. Olds, aged about 65 years, postmaster at Norwich, died of heart failure at the Hotel Vermont, in Burlington, February 25th. Mr. Olds had come here to attend the session of the U. S. district court.

The U. S. district court opened in Burlington Tuesday with Judge Julius S. Mayer of New York, presiding. There were 5 civil cases on the docket. The case of Augusta E. Trowbridge vs. Frank Chandler, negligence, was first called.

The Knights of Columbus held one of their largest meetings in the history of their order in Vermont, February 23, at St. Albans. A class of 104 candidates received the fourth degree. Master J. T. Rudden of Bellows Falls had this in charge. Dinner was served in the American house and a ball was held afterwards.

Floyd Ingalls of Rutland attempted to take his life, February 24, by he use of mercury bichloride. He is 22 years of age. Although not addicted to drink, he had been drinking heavily the previous day, and it was probably due to this that the deed was attempted. Medical aid was summoned so soon that the deadly medicine did not have a fatal effect.

Edward Gaffney of West Rutland secured a writ of habeas corpus to obtain his newly made bride. They were married February 21, and went to the home of the groom. The next day they called on the bride's mother and she refused to let her daughter leave the house. After vain attempts to gain his bride, Mr. Gaffney finally resorted to the aid of the courts.

A disastrous fire occurred at Bellows Falls early in the morning of February 25, when a three-family house caught on fire from the explosion of a hot air furnace. It was not discovered until it had such a start that it could not be saved. The families of William A. Kingston, Henry Hancoscombe, and R. H. Thomas were forced to leave the house, only scantily clothed. The damage to the house was about $7,000 partially covered by insurance. Scarcely anything was saved by way of personal property.

The home of Herman Jillson of Pomfret was destroyed by fire, February 23. The damage of $700 was partially covered by insurance.

The Society of Colonial Wars of Vermont held its 20th annual meeting at Burlington, February 24. An interesting program was carried out and officers were elected.

Mrs. Joseph Guertin of Rutland was brought here Judge Swinerton February 25, charged with abusing her children and neglecting to prepare proper food. Upon investigation this charge was not proved for one for statutory offense. As a result of this case, James McMillan, an Italian was also arrested.
